DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner notes that an application data sheet was filed in the application and that there is no need to place the provisional application data at the start of the specification in view of the data sheet.

2. A corrected 1449 with all references noted as considered is attached.

3. This application does not contain an abstract of the disclosure as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). An abstract on a separate sheet is required. The abstract of the WO published document of the instant 371 case will be used if the instant case issues and no abstract is supplied by applicant.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-10, 12-23, 25-31, 33-36, 53-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Spertus (U.S. 3,546,055).

See Figures 1-8 and col. 3, lines 40-65, which teaches that polystyrene balls may be molded onto both sides of a sheet with the material joined through an aperture in the sheet, which may be fibrous.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 11, 24, 32, and 37-52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spertus (U.S. 3,546,055) in view of Nelson (U.S. 5,322,181).

Spertus teaches elements molded to both sides of a fabric as taught above. Nelson teaches elements in contact with each other in Figure 26, in order to form an outer surface with good impact absorption. The instant invention claims elements in contact on a sheet and the molding of the elements using mold halves. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have made the elements of Spertus in contact in order to provide a good impact surface because of the teachings of Nelson. It further would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to supply the proper conventional molding equipment, such as mold halves, to accomplish the molding step of Spertus.

8. Claim 17 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

It is not clear how claim 17 further limits claim 16.

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1, 6-73 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
